

Hunts Catch Up

Dear R. B. Hunt Family,

I hope that all our families had a wonderful Thanksgiving! I try not to take for granted the wonderful children and families here at R. B. Hunt. I feel so very blessed that I have been able to watch your children learn and grow. Thank you for sharing them with us!

Please remember, with the holidays approaching that to attend student events at R. B. Hunt, you must have cleared building access. This can be done through the St. Johns County Schools website. We cannot let your sweet grandma from Kansas in the school if she does not have cleared building access. Please don't put us in the awkward position of telling people they cannot attend these special events- it takes time for the background checks- so plan ahead.

Our very own Laura Inman was honored last Thursday evening at the "Support Related Employee of the Year" reception at the World Golf Village for her outstanding support and service to our children and school. Thank you Laura- you represent R. B. Hunt so well! We appreciate all you do!

Congratulations go out to Liam Gabaldon and Kinslee Turley for reading over one million words! Welcome to the "Principals Million Word Club". Keep up the great reading.

Enjoy and treasure this special time with those you love,

Amanda S. Garman
